

Public Land Service Form

Run the Red requires a commitment to public land service from all race participants. Entrants must complete the work between registration opening and two weeks prior to the race date (deadline of September 10, 2022).

Service may be performed on any public land (local, state or federal) in the United States, however, for those within traveling distance of the Red Desert, the Wyoming Wilderness Association, the Wyoming Outdoor Council and NOLS are working to schedule a service project along the Run the Red race course that would satisfy this requirement. Keep your eyes on your inbox for this project announcement if interested.

Runners should email the completed and signed form to runthereddesert@gmail.com
